Helping Make the Transition

Transitions tutoring groups help advanced English as a Second Language (ESL) adult learners develop accuracy and fluency in speaking English. This allows the students to move successfully from the ESL classroom to regular literacy classes or post-secondary education.

Become a Transitions Volunteer Tutor!

- Are you at least 21 years old, have basic computer skills, and meet the State requirement that ESL tutors must have a four-year college degree?
- Do you have some prior teaching experience and the ability to teach basic grammar concepts such as verb tenses and sentence structure?
- Are you non-judgmental, respectful of others, and a good communicator?
- Can you make a commitment to volunteer three hours a week?

This interactive, comprehensive training will provide volunteers with an understanding of the adult learner and the techniques to become an effective Transitions tutor.
